Bishop William A. Wack, CSC

DOB: 6/28

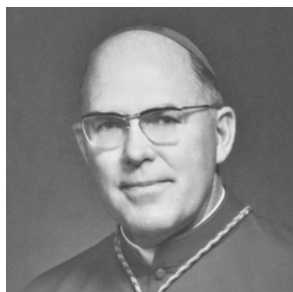

Ordained: 4/9/1994

Bishop Wack was born and raised in South Bend, Indiana as the second-youngest of 10 children. He graduated from the University of Notre Dame with a bachelor's degree in 1989. Bishop Wack entered the seminary with the Congregation of Holy Cross. After graduation, he joined the Holy Cross Novitiate. He returned to Notre Dame to pursue a Masters of Divinity degree, which he received in May of 1993. Following his ordination to the priesthood in 1994, he served for three and a half years as associate pastor at Sacred Heart Church in Colorado Springs, CO. From 1997 to 2002, Bishop Wack served as associate director of vocations for Holy Cross at Notre Dame, as well as director of the Freshman Retreat Program and worked in campus ministry. He served as director of Andre House, a hospitality house in Phoenix, AZ from 2002 to 2008. In 2009, he was assigned as pastor of St. Ignatius Martyr Catholic Church in Austin, TX. In May 2017, Pope Francis named him the sixth bishop of the Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee. He was ordained and installed on August 22, 2017.

Vision

The vision of our diocese is to joyfully proclaim, celebrate, and live the love of Jesus Christ. Our vision has three main priorities: forming disciples, inviting others to the faith, and disciples in action. Forming disciples focuses on helping others to grow to their full maturity in Christ based on a rich and deep understanding of Scripture and tradition. Inviting others to the faith is about spreading the joy of the Gospel in both word and deed to the faithful, to those who are not living their baptismal call, and to those who have never known Jesus Christ. Disciples in action encourages us to live out our baptismal call and model Christ's love to serve the poor and our neighbors in need.

Coat of Arms

Because the Diocese is a dual-city See, the coat of arms has been divided in half. Each half honors one of the See cities. The upper portion of the diocese arms honors the city of Pensacola. These arms are composed of a red field on which is placed a gold cross of the faith. In the center of the cross is a white plate on which is a representation of the Sacred Heart, to honor the titular of the Cathedral. In the upper left, known as the dexter chief, is a white airplane propeller to denote that Pensacola is principally known for the largest U.S. naval aviation training school in the world.

The lower portion of the diocesan coat of arms contains symbolism of the city of Tallahassee. These arms are composed of a white field on which is displayed a red saltair which is taken from the flag of the State of Florida, of which Tallahassee is the capital. In the compartments formed by the saltair are three black Morecocks (symbol of the More family) to honor the titular of the Co-Cathedral, St. Thomas More; the black log cabin signifies the Indian word "Tallahassee" meaning "old town" or "old fields."

A bishop's miter appears at the top of the coat of arms to signify the coat of arms of a diocese.

History of the Diocese

The Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee is comprised of 18 counties in Northwest Florida, namely: Bay, Calhoun, Escambia, Franklin, Gadsden, Gulf, Holmes, Jackson, Jefferson, Leon, Liberty, Madison, Okaloosa, Santa Rosa, Taylor, Wakulla, Walton, and Washington.

The Diocese covers 14,044 square miles. Of the seven dioceses now in Florida — St. Augustine, 1870; Miami, 1958; St. Petersburg, 1968; Orlando, 1968; Pensacola-Tallahassee, 1975; Palm Beach, 1984; and Venice, 1984, ours is the most extensive in size and the least populated. We average four Catholics for each square mile.

The Catholic Church in Northwest Florida is rich in history.

1559 The First Mass was offered on August 15. Spanish colonists, accompanied by five Dominican priests and a lay brother, arrived in Pensacola. Devastated by a hurricane, the settlement was abandoned two years later.

1674 Gabriel Diaz Vara Calderon, bishop of Santiago de Cuba, visited the Franciscan missions in present-day Madison, Jefferson and Leon counties, along the Apalachicola River and administered the sacrament of confirmation to Indian converts.

1693 Resettlement of Pensacola by Spain.

1763 With the Treaty of Paris, an exodus of Spanish Catholics took place during the British occupation of Florida.

1781 On May 11, Spain captured Pensacola and the Church's presence was restored when Father Pedro Velez was sent to minister at the Spanish Garrison. St. Michael Parish was established and has served continuously since that time.

1787 The Diocese of San Cristobal of Havana was established and Bishop Jose de Trespalacios y Verdeja assumed jurisdiction of Cuba and the territories of Louisiana and the Floridas.

1791 Bishop Cyril of Barcelona visited Pensacola and found 245 Catholics among the 572 residents.

1795 The east and west of Florida were placed in the new Diocese of Louisiana and the Floridas. The first bishop was Luis Penalver y Cardenas, former vicar general of Havana. He visited Pensacola in 1798.

1806 The Floridas returned to the Diocese of Havana.

1823 St. Michael Parish, Pensacola, was incorporated under the territorial laws of Florida, now a possession of the U.S. The Floridas returned to the Diocese of Louisiana and the Floridas.

1826 Vicariate of Alabama and the Floridas established.

1829 The new Diocese of Mobile was established and included both Alabama and the Floridas. Bishop Michael Portier, first bishop, traveled from Pensacola to St. Augustine and back amid great hardship and hostility, seeking to strengthen the Church across north Florida.

1837 Bishop Portier established the first parish school and, by 1870, 100 pupils were enrolled at St. Michael Academy.

1846 First attempt at a permanent church in Tallahassee; it burned down in two years.

1850 All of Florida, east of the Apalachicola River, was transferred to the jurisdiction of the newly established Diocese of Savannah with Bishop Francis X. Gartland, first bishop. The ten western counties of North Florida remained in the Diocese of Mobile.

1851 St. John Parish was formed in Warrington near the Pensacola Navy Yard and St. Patrick Parish began in Apalachicola. Apalachicola was then a flourishing cotton export center.

1861 The Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul, at the request of the Confederate general, arrived in Pensacola and staffed an infirmary until 1865. The Sisters returned in 1915, when Sacred Heart Hospital was founded.

1870 The Diocese of St. Augustine was established and included all of Florida east of the Apalachicola River. Bishop Agustin Verot was named first bishop and participated in the First Vatican Council.

1877 The Sisters of Mercy arrived to staff St. Michael School, Pensacola, and in the following year, they staffed St. John School, Warrington.

1885 After the destruction of three previous buildings, one from age and two from fire, the present St. Michael Church was built and dedicated the following year by Bishop Jeremiah O'Sullivan of Mobile.

1891 At the request of Mercedes Ruby, a structure known as St. Joseph Church was dedicated by Bishop O'Sullivan. It served as a church and school. Reverend Robert Fullerton was pastor of this first black parish in the Diocese of Mobile which served the local community. In 1894, the present church building was dedicated.

1927 Bishop Thomas J. Toolen became sixth bishop of Mobile and guided the Church in Alabama and Northwest Florida for more than 40 years, traveling extensively by automobile and establishing numerous parishes, schools and institutions.

1939 At the request of Father John J. Raleigh, the Sisters of Charity of St. Elizabeth from New Jersey arrived to reopen St. Joseph School.

1958 The Diocese of Miami was established to include 16 counties in South Florida.

1967 In May, the present Sacred Heart Church, Pensacola, was dedicated by Archbishop Thomas J. Toolen of Mobile. In September, St. Thomas More Church, near the campus of Florida State University, Tallahassee, was dedicated by Archbishop Joseph P. Hurley of St. Augustine.

1968 In February, Bishop Paul F. Tanner was named seventh bishop of St. Augustine. In June, the Diocese of Miami was raised to Archdiocese and the Province of Miami was established to include all of the dioceses of Florida. At the same time, the new Dioceses of St. Petersburg and Orlando were created. The ten counties of Northwest Florida, formerly a part of the Diocese of Mobile, were transferred to the Diocese of St. Augustine.

1975 The Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee was established on November 6, by dividing the Diocese of Saint Augustine, which consisted of 35 counties. Until May 8, 1968, the ten counties west of the Apalachicola River were part of the Diocese of Mobile while the eight counties east of the river were part of the Saint Augustine Diocese from its establishment in 1870.

On November 6, Bishop Rene H. Gracida, former auxiliary bishop of Miami, was installed as first bishop. Sacred Heart Church, Pensacola, was named the Cathedral and St. Thomas More Church, Tallahassee, the Co-Cathedral. The new diocese was placed under the patronage of St. Michael the Archangel and St. Thomas More.

1983 In July, Bishop Rene H. Gracida was transferred to the Diocese of Corpus Christi, Texas. Msgr. James Gallagher served as diocesan administrator for four months. On November 8, Bishop J. Keith Symons, former auxiliary bishop of St. Petersburg, was installed as the second Bishop of the Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee.

1984 In October, the new Dioceses of Palm Beach and Venice were established in South Florida. The State of Florida now has seven dioceses.

1990 On June 2, Bishop J. Keith Symons was appointed second bishop of Palm Beach where he was installed on July 31. The Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee remained vacant for a period of one year. Msgr. James Amos served as diocesan administrator.

1991 Bishop John Mortimer Smith, auxiliary bishop of the Archdiocese of Newark, was appointed on June 25 to be third bishop of Pensacola-Tallahassee. He was installed at the Civic Center in Pensacola on July 31. Bishop Smith was appointed bishop of Trenton in November 1995 and installed in February of 1996. Msgr. James Amos served as administrator from February 1996 until March 1997.

1995 Bishop Smith was reassigned by Pope John Paul II as the bishop of Trenton, New Jersey. The Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee remained vacant for a period of one year. Msgr. James Amos served as diocesan administrator.

1997 Bishop John H. Ricard, SSJ, was installed as the fourth bishop of the Pensacola-Tallahassee Diocese on March 13 at the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart in Pensacola. He resigned due to health issues on March 11, 2011 and is the first bishop emeritus of Pensacola. Archbishop Thomas Wenski served as apostolic administrator until a new bishop was appointed.

2000 Pensacola-Tallahassee celebrated 25 years as a diocese.

2012 The Basilica of St. Michael the Archangel was dedicated on February 10, in recognition of the importance of the parish and its long history, being the oldest continuously operating parish in the Province of Miami.

Bishop Gregory L. Parkes, a priest of the Diocese of Orlando, ordained to the episcopacy and installed as the fifth bishop of the Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee on June 5, at St. Paul Catholic Church in Pensacola. He was appointed by Pope Benedict XVI and succeeded Bishop John H. Ricard, SSJ.

2016 On November 28, The Most Reverend Gregory L. Parkes was reassigned by Pope Francis as bishop of the Diocese of St. Petersburg, FL. His installation Mass was celebrated on January 4 of the following year.

2017 Bishop William A. Wack, CSC, a priest serving in the Diocese of Austin succeeded Bishop Parkes and was ordained and installed as the sixth bishop of the Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee on August 22 at the Pensacola Bay Center. He was appointed by Pope Francis and succeeded Bishop Gregory L. Parkes.

The Catholic Church in Florida has experienced many changes and great growth over the years. This brief history only recalls highlights. Known to God alone and recorded in the silent pages of history are the innumerable prayers, sacrifices and great heartfelt generosity of hundreds of thousands of men and women. Grateful for their gift of faith, they have shown well their appreciation to almighty God by their ongoing determination to pass the “Light of Christ” onto the future.

The Catholic population is most numerous in the western section of the Diocese (Pensacola) where 40 percent of the total population lives. The remaining 60 percent are nearly equally divided in the areas of Fort Walton Beach, Panama City and Tallahassee. There are seven rural counties along the 200 mile stretch of highway from the Cathedral of the Sacred Heart, Pensacola, to the Co-Cathedral of St. Thomas More, Tallahassee.

Northwest Florida is not highly populated or industrialized. It is mostly made up of rural farming communities which have dedicated vast acreage to growing trees for major paper product companies. Economic well being is greatly due to the large military presence in the diocese. There are seven military bases in the diocese. Among those bases is Eglin Air Force Base, which is the largest U.S. Air Force Base in the world. Eglin Air Force Base covers 765 square miles of three Northwest Florida counties. In addition to numerous military personnel, civilian men and women are employed as support staff.

Significant economic factors in Northwest Florida are the three Air Force bases at Eglin, Hurlburt, and Tyndall; the three Naval bases at Pensacola Naval Air Station, Corry, and Whiting; and one Coast Guard Base in Panama City. These military installations provide jobs to area residents and support commercial businesses and enterprises, which have been built around Northwest Florida Bases.

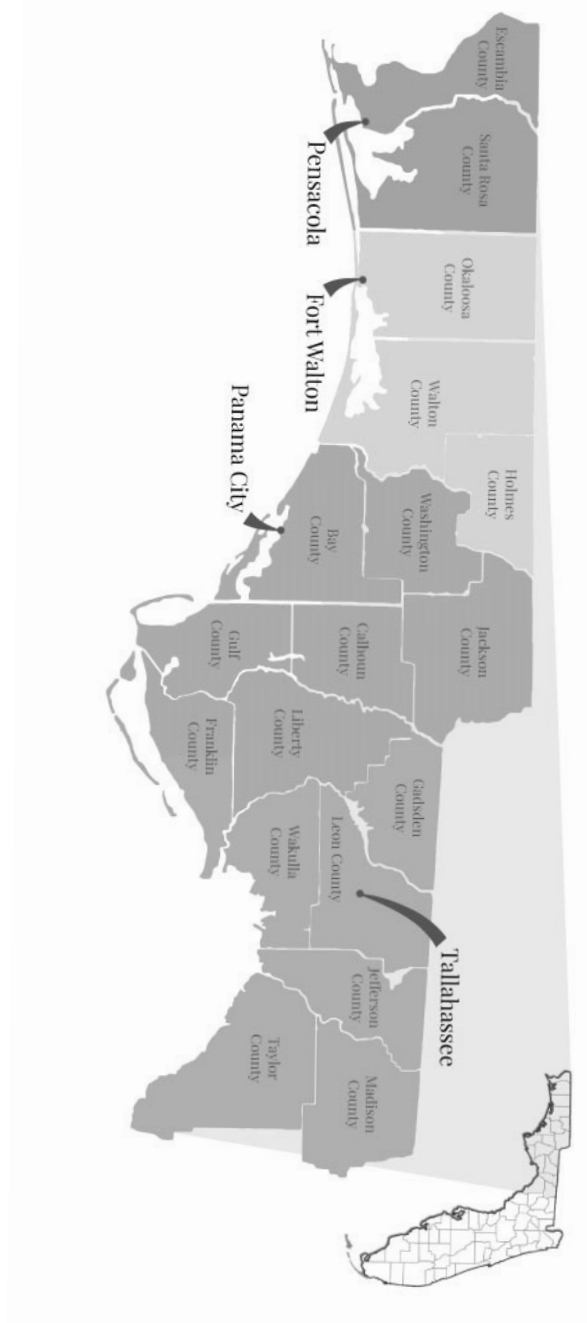

There are 49 parishes and six missions in the diocese. There is a resident pastor in every county except three — Holmes, Liberty and Madison. Many parishes in the less populated areas are subsidized by mission societies, such as: the Catholic Extension Society; the American Board of Catholic Missions; the Commission Among the Blacks and Indians; and Missionary Cooperative Appeals personally made by the diocesan bishop in other dioceses of Florida.

None of the counties in this diocese are growth impact areas, although four are predicted to experience substantial growth in the next 10 years. Two more are expected to grow at a lesser rate while little or no expansion is anticipated for the other 12 counties. There is considerable evidence of development along the shore of the Gulf of Mexico, which is the southern boundary of the Diocese.

From a rural and sparsely populated area of the “Old South” 50 years ago, some areas of this Northwest Florida diocese have developed into modern communities. Much of this has come from the expansion of military bases since World War II, improvements in communication and transportation, the growth of the aerospace industry and from air conditioning. Improved building methods have also allowed construction on the sand that is a heavy component of our soil.

Some of the smaller communities have grown slowly. Others have progressed significantly. 11 missions were raised to the status of parishes during the last seven years here.

Catholic Schools

In the greater Pensacola area there are four (4) elementary schools and two (2) high schools, and one of the high schools is for students with special needs.

There are also elementary schools in Fort Walton Beach, Panama City, and Tallahassee; along with a high school located in Tallahassee.

In addition, the diocese has four (4) stand alone pre-schools in Pensacola, Gulf Breeze, Santa Rosa Shores and Panama City Beach.

All schools are accredited; all full-time teachers are certified. Pre-schools are state licensed.

Tuition rates are determined by each school. Parish participation and sibling grants are available. Registration is conducted in early Spring. Late registrations are accepted, but in some cases there may be waiting lists. There is no neighborhood or residence requirement – a school may be selected for programs offered or convenience to the home or a parent's work place. All elementary schools offer extended day care.

The mission of the Diocese of Pensacola-Tallahassee Diocesan school system is to collaborate with parents in the formation of students spiritually and academically passing on to all the message of Christ. This is done in the context of a Christian community which worships together, fosters service and strives to achieve academic excellence.

Acts Retreats

An ACTS retreat is a three day and three night Catholic lay retreat presented by fellow parishioners. The retreat begins on Thursday evening and ends the following Sunday at a Mass celebrated with the parish community. Retreats for men and retreats for women are given separately. Talks and activities during the retreat focus on Adoration, Community, Theology and Service, from which the ACTS program acronym is derived. Holy Scripture and the teachings of the Roman Catholic Church are the guides for the retreats. The retreat takes on the traditions and atmosphere of the parish community sponsoring it.

St. Vincent de Paul Society

The Society of St. Vincent de Paul offers tangible assistance to the poor. This aid may take the form of intervention, advocacy, consultation, or direct financial aid. A unique feature of the Society of SVDP is its commitment to “home visit” to those who are in need of help. By visiting the poor in their homes, the organization offers a listening ear and friendship. This allows us to ascertain other family needs that a family may not have expressly sought.
